CONGRATULATIONS

To William Lyon Mackenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada, we extend our sincere congratulations on his 25th anniversary as leader of the Liberal party.

It is too early, with great events ahead of us and the past not yet fully understood, to assess the part Mr. King has played in the affairs of his country. To future historians falls that task. This much is indisputable: his role has been no small one. He has dominated the stage.

To Mr. King's credit, whatever else may be said, is the growth of Canadian sovereignty. In the halls of Westminster and in the study at Hyde Park, he has insisted on and been granted full recognition of Canada's stature. Under his premiership, we have become a nation with independent prerogatives in our external relations.

WHEN WILL WE KNOW?

Premier George Drew's statements on the family allowances bill at the Richmond Hill rally last week were distinctly inappropriate to the time and place. He spoke as if to an exclusive caucus of Ontario followers. He seemed unaware that it was a federal election rally at which he was present. He seemed not to realize that those who had assembled were there to hear a constructive platform on which to elect a federal candidate. On the contrary, Mr. Drew used the occasion to air his resentment of federal infringement on provincial jurisdiction and his criticism that the family allowance bill is a bribe to Quebec electors.

We are not quarreling with the truth of Mr. Drew's statements. We do, however, emphatically reject them as material for a federal election rally. Mr. Drew is a powerful and eloquent speaker and his choice of subject gave him ample opportunity to show his talent. Numerous times he was halted by applause. But of his auditors we ask: what in Mr. Drew's speech gave promise of constructive Progressive Conservative action should that party obtain a majority in Ottawa? What in Mr. Drew's statements could be construed as having a bearing on federal election issues?

Mr. Drew's criticisms of the family allowance bill and the way in which it has been introduced could be understood as a covert inference that a Progressive Conservative government would never do that sort of thing. If that was his intention, he has done his party no service. In the face of such vital issues, issues that will determine the choice of a way of life, inference is a poor tool to employ. Nothing in Mr. Drew's speech could be considered as a direct statement of Progressive Conservative policy in Ottawa.

If criticism of the present government is all that Mr. Drew can offer by way of party policy, then the electors of this riding will be absolutely right in rejecting his party at the polls. No matter in what esteem the federal candidate may be held, he is nonetheless a member of that party and as that party acts, so must he. Mr. Toole declares there must be a square deal for the small farmer. He says he is proud to associate with John Bracken who also declares there must be a square deal for the small farmer. Neither Party Leader John Bracken nor Candidate Earle Toole may speak jointly or together as prophets of the Progressive Conservative party without the complete agreement of a majority in that party as expressed in a definite party election platform. Where is that platform? Does Premier Drew expect the national adoption of his provincial policy? Does John Bracken still speak on the strength of the Winnipeg convention? Has Candidate Earle Toole the complete backing of his party on his square deal for the farmer? At no time were these questions clarified.

The old line parties are showing a lamentable failure to realize the depth of the issues before the nation. The Liberal party courts Quebec with legislation and an emasculated manpower policy. The Progressive Conservative party snipes at the Liberal acts but is chary of offering something better. Both parties conduct a propaganda campaign, as hysterical as it is devoid of fact, against the C.C.F. Neither party has so far shown any signs of an intelligent approach to the electors.

The Canadian elector has more at stake than ever before. He will not be satisfied with unsupported promises or a policy of criticism in place of a constructive platform. The Canadian elector knows now as never before the importance of his individual vote. The candidate for that vote must be able to promise more than an integrity which is expected of him in the first place. He must show a comprehensive platform with every evidence that such a platform will be carried out. Most of all, he must show a realization of the issues involved. Has it been done?

SIGNS

I do not mean the wayside signs which tell us to go here or there, do this or that, shop here or eat there. All these are good and helpful, as a rule. The ones I was thinking of were signs of the times.

When I was small children were supposed to play decorously within the confines of their own backyards or those of their neighbors, for there was usually one on a street where the children congregated. Either it was larger or it had more means of amusement or the mother in the family was less disturbed by the ensuing racket. My cousin's home, where I spent a good many summers, was one of these. There was a swing and a teeter and a sand pile, and, as my uncle was a furniture dealer, a great many large packing boxes, well suited for playing "house." There was a big loft over the warehouse which was a boon to us—and my aunt—on rainy days. Here were fascinating pieces of gilded moulding and picture framing, and here was stored furniture which was to be re-conditioned. So there was everything at hand to make the hours pass. It never occurred to us to go on the street—there wasn't any fun there—and if we had tried in a rebellious moment we would have been well and severely reprimanded, and told that "the street was no place for children." Those days weren't all play either. In the morning every one had his or her chores. I, being a visitor, was exempt, but always shared the tasks of the cousin nearest in age. Ours it was to pick peas or beans, berries or currants for the day's needs. And I had another task, to fill the flower vases, which was quite a task as my aunt counted no room dressed without its bouquet.

But it's different now. Chil-

Franz von Papen, former Ambassador to Turkey, was arrested as soon as he entered Germany on Tuesday, it was reported.

Maurice Duplessis and his Union Nationale lacked a single seat for a bare majority in the Quebec Legislature early on Wednesday, with two seats still doubtful, in the tabulation of votes in Monday's general elections. It was assumed, however, that his party would come into power.

The Alberta Social Credit government and all the nine members of the cabinet were sent back to office in provincial voting on Tuesday. While it was an outstanding victory for Social Credit, when 35 Socialists had been elected and 15 were leading in other ridings, it was a big blow to the C.C.F., which led in only two of the 57 ridings and had entered the field with added confidence as a result of the landslide in Saskatchewan.

Britain and the United States have signed a pact on oil policy designed to prevent peacetime disputes between the two allies and serve as a prime weapon to enforce peace.

In its first big action, the 1st Canadian army drove forward five miles through the enemy's defences south of Caen in an offensive that threatens to unhinge the whole right flank of the German line.

Germany has thrown strong reserves into action on the eastern front and slowed up the Red Army on its 1,000 mile battle-front, and for the first time in its 48-day offensive, the Russian troops failed to make more than local gains.

THIMBLES

By GOLDEN GLOW

Yes—you've guessed it! I was straightening up my work-basket and I found myself recalling days long, long ago when as a special treat I was allowed to "tidy up" my mother's work-basket.

Don't you smile to yourself when you think how adroit mothers are to keep a few things like straightening up her work-basket, etc., as an extra special treat? Oh! It is just as well for mothers to have a few things up their sleeve for special occasions and particular favors!

Dear me—how long it seems—but I can still see myself, fairly bubbling over with delight, sitting on a footstool at mother's feet, as she was busy with her needlework, or her knitting, while I rediscovered each well-remembered treasure!

The skeins of silk wound on pretty mother-of-pearl winders, the little carved case with the screw top which held her silver thimble, a little girl's thimble with "forget-me-not" around the rim, the beaded needle-case, the dainty embroidery scissors we were never allowed to use, with a stork for handle and the points its long beak.

Then there was a queer little tool used for ripping. It looks like a horn of some tiny animal with another curved horn bound to the end—I always thought it must be the "horn of a dilemma," for I've heard folks use that expression, and I did not know what it meant—and seeing I didn't know what animal the little horn was off, I naturally thought it must be a "dilemma."

But I think the little glove mender was prime favorite! It was shaped like a person's finger, fingernail and all, and it had a tiny lid that lifted up to show a hollow where the darning and sewing needles were kept. When you mended your glove this affair fitted into the finger and made things easier.

Oh dear, I can see it all and I can shut my eyes and still fancy I can inhale the delicate, fragrant perfume that clung to that black velvet sewing-box.

TWENTY-THREE LAST WEEK

Due to the reposting of our good padre, Capt. Hicks, an effort is being made by this humble reporter to record in as friendly a style the news from No. 23. Yes, our sincere padre has gone to serve the lads of the army in other parts and with his departure goes a sincere wish that his work will always and everywhere be as deeply appreciated as it was here.

Before he left, the padre married one of our lassies in our own chapel. Pte. Frieda Zaretzki was married on July 30 to L-Cpl. Wilcox of Camp Borden. The wedding was a very pretty one and the bride and groom after the ceremony drove away in state to the C.W.A.C. recreation room in the colonel's station wagon. There a reception was held for the centre of attraction. The entire centre wished both the bride and her groom all the good luck in the world and as much happiness as any human has a right to expect.

Another old friend to leave the centre was dear old C.Q.M.S. Russ Russell. There wasn't anything old Russ wouldn't do for anybody, although he would mutter and mumble all the while he was doing it, but it didn't mean anything. He has a heart of gold and he'll be sorely missed. We all hope every success will attend his new responsibilities in civilian life.

On July 29, the track and field team travelled to Hamilton and made a clean sweep of most of the events at the meet held in that city that afternoon. The team returned with a handsome shield which was shown the troops on the evening of July 31 when the entire team was presented to the centre from the stage in the drill hall. The colonel looked his pride and promised not to keep the shield in the officers' mess.

The same evening a travelling unit of the army show reported at camp and presented a colorful show consisting largely of production numbers featuring the C.W.A.C. members of the unit. For what it's worth, the suggestion is made that more use might have been made of the obvious talents of several members of the unit and less of the unit as a whole. The Strap-Hangers' number, by its repetition, caused a feeling little short of bewilderment. Not as much consideration is felt for a unit of this type because its members are all soldiers, getting the same money as the rest of us, and it's more generally felt that such a unit should do a better job than a civilian unit and should especially be more easily able to appeal to a soldier audience. However, the unit is still young and may eventually get to its feet.

One of the popular officers of this centre, Lieut. Bill Yeats, recently took a very important step in his life, having pledged himself to one woman and to one woman alone. Since his return from a marriage leave, he has been enduring much friendly joshing. But Bill takes it all with that great big friendly grin of his and swears he's planning great things in the future.

In the same breath, it's a pleasure to report that Lieut. Daddy Woods has finally emerged from the woods with a dandy baby girl. Mrs. Woods presented the little bundle of heaven to the old man over the weekend. Daddy hasn't quite got used to his new role but having cultivated a rather fatherly manner over the years, Bill shouldn't have much trouble getting on his hands and knees and amusing the little mite in the traditional manner.

That's all for this week. We promise to do better next week. After all, you don't become a theological reporter in a day.

BEHIND YOUR TELEPHONE...

HIGH USAGE A RESULT OF LOW COST

Here in Canada where the telephone idea was born, more telephone calls per capita are made than in almost any other country in the world.

Usage is surely the final test. Telephone users get the greatest possible value for what they pay. Reasonable rates and speedy, dependable, courteous service—all these encourage telephone development. They account for Canada's leadership in the use of the telephone.

Of course, war-time scarcity of vital materials has sharply restricted growth, but telephone service has been maintained at high standard. It has made an outstanding contribution to the Victory to come.

Residents of Canada and the United States make many more telephone calls per capita than any European country.

In Europe, Sweden leads. Latest official figures available (1941) give Sweden 196.5 annual calls per capita as compared with 262 for Canada.

SERVING AURORA AND DISTRICT

Toronto Bound Residents Advised Housing Short

WAS A.H.S. CADET CAPTAIN

A letter was read to the Aurora town council Tuesday night from the city clerk of Toronto drawing attention to an advertisement that had appeared in Toronto papers. The advertisement warned that residents from outside the city limits who were planning to move to Toronto, could not expect any help from the city in finding a place to live.

The reason as given in the letter and advertisement was that Toronto is short of accommodation for families and the city couldn't accept the responsibility of finding homes for new comers.

"Is there anyone living in tents here?" asked Reeve C. P. Sparks.

"One or two," answered the mayor.

"What happens in winter?" asked Reeve Sparks.

SERVICE HELD FOR P.O. WADE

Clarke of Camp Borden as he gave the address at the memorial service held in Trinity Anglican church on Sunday for the late P.O. Reginald H. Wade. "These boys at the front or in the air do not regard themselves as heroes. Glamour and excitement, it is true, play a small part in their lives, but they are there because they know there is a job to be done and they must do it."

"Like the Maccabees of old our airmen, soldiers and sailors fought with their lives at stake lest we hold dear be destroyed," said Pte. L. D. R. L. Clarke who paid tribute to the flier who was killed over Germany and urged those at home to remain steadfast in their hope for the future.

The service was conducted by Rev. Canon F. J. Fife and members of the Aurora town council and civic bodies headed by Mayor Roscoe Linton, R.C.A.F. personnel from Camp Borden and many Aurorians attended the service. Last Post and Reveille were sounded by Bugler Kenneth Forsythe.

1922, and educated at Aurora high school, Tpr. MacKenzie was employed by the Sisman Shoe Co. at the time of his enlistment in 1941 with the 1st Hussars, Armored Regiment. After training at Camp Borden, he proceeded overseas in October of the same year.

Douglas was prominent in athletics, being junior track champion for two years at Aurora high school, and a member of the Aurora Cycling club. Aurora Beats Markham In 15-14 Bantam Game

Aurora bantams opened the second round of the North York league with a 15-14 win over Duard Rose's Markham kids, in the southern village last week. The game was a regular slug-fest but errors and overthrows accounted for the high score. Aurora had to come from behind to take the game and nobody knows Bill Holloway's magic words but the kids scored 11 runs in their half of the seventh to take the lead for the first time, and then held Markham scoreless.

Ronnie Simmons and Leo Anthony divided the hurling, with Bell and Hill doing the same for the homesters. Simmons had four strikeouts and Bell six, but it was youthful Leo Anthony who made the fans sit up and take notice with a fine all-round pitching chore.

Tuffy Nesbitt led the Aurora hitters with two lousy crashes. With this game under their belt the Aurora youngsters hope to take the group title.

PRESENTATION MADE

Fire late Friday afternoon destroyed the main plant and heating section of Frederick Hare's chick hatchery and poultry farm at Temperanceville with a loss of around $4,500. The building was struck by lightning during a brief electrical storm and the flames spread quickly, trapping many of the chickens, although a good number were saved.

The heat of the flames caused the boiler to explode. Aurora fire brigade under Captain Stewart Patrick answered a call for help and put up a good fight against the flames, despite the fact there was no water supply, and the fire had gained a great headway. A building three feet away was saved, as were other buildings, and chemicals were used extensively to prevent the flames spreading.

"It puts us in a pretty bad spot. We don't know where to go," the fire chief declared.

"The alarms are hard to fix," the mayor replied.

"I move that the mayor be authorized to have fire boxes repaired," said Councillor Thomas Swindle.

Chief Jones also asked if the town electrician, Charley Copeland, was allowed to go out of town with the truck.

"At the fire Friday, we ran out of chemicals and had to have a man go back to town for more," he said.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Mickey Sutton, young Aurora-Richmond Hill athlete, whom we mentioned last week as playing soccer for Newmarket camp, has moved to No. 2 C.A.C.T.R., Camp Borden. As yet he has not participated in any sports there, but the youngster can be depended upon to crash into one of the line-ups soon.

Cliff Mills, who started the season back of the plate for Newmarket softballers, and also was Jack Rudderham's battery mate in hardball, has moved to No. 1 C.A.C.T.R. and will make his appearance behind the plate for No. 1 who still have a chance to get in the Borden hardball championships providing they can take the D. and M. Track boys whose O.C. is none other than sports-minded Major Norman Johnson, former Aurora high school track, soccer and basketball coach. Major Johnson, incidentally, aided and abetted by some fine support from his senior N.C.O.'s and officers, has had a really fine sports program inaugurated this summer for the budding drivers of the armored corps.

Charles Nesbitt, Bradford-Newmarket-Camp Borden hockey stalwart, who needs no introduction, has been transferred from Camp Borden back to Newmarket and will be available for hockey this winter at No. 23. If the Redmen could only take the ice now they would have a mighty sweet team. Bing Caswell, Jack Wheeler, Joint McComb, Johnny Callanan, Harvie Avison, Bert Life, Bob Bangay, Joe Fennel, Chuck Hamilton and Nesbitt being among the puckchasing stars now at No. 23.

Joint McComb has been on the mound three times so far this season for the Redmen softballers but is not yet in top pitching form. It is hoped he gets around to tossing his best soon, for the chips are down this Thursday night as the C.A.C. softball circuit swings into the first week of the league playoffs. McComb, when right, can hold his own with any pitcher in the circuit. Johnny Callanan, smiling outfielder and hockey star at Newmarket camp, is playing softball these days with Army Shamrocks in the Beaches senior league as well as in the armored corps circuit. Callanan has been no ball of fire to date in the C.A.C. group but last season was one of the best players in the R.C.O.C. club in the Davisville circuit, and has really played better ball in faster company.

Newmarket hardballers are of course out of the running in the undecided class as to the O.A.B.A. intermediate play-off, awaiting a ruling from the army as to whether or not they can seek provincial honors. In any case Newmarket will see some good hardball yet as the four armored corps teams and Orillia camp will hook up this month in a C.A.C. Congress hardball tournament with the knockout system prevailing in the first round. The draw finds No. 3 at Newmarket on Monday, August 14, Orillia at No. 2 and M. Track and No. 1 at No. 2 on the same date. The three winners will meet in a round-robin series.

Soccer has the same arrangement except in deference to Newmarket's T. and D. schedule the league will not get underway until September. Seven teams are entered in a sudden-death series there. No. 1 meeting Newmarket, No. 3 clashing with No. 2 and Orillia with T. and S. Wing and T.S.R. getting a bye. The winners of the Newmarket series meet T.S.R. which should give them a path to the finals. As a comparison of the soccer in Borden and Newmarket, earlier this year the camp beat Camp Borden R.C.O.C. 2-1, while No. 3, who played in Aurora last year and are the present Borden leaders, tied the R.C.O.C. boys 1-1 and then whipped them decisively last week 4-0. It should be a great series and North York fans who have always liked their soccer should watch for these games. The officials at Newmarket camp charge nothing for welcome civilians to the games. We have always wondered why more civilians did not attend games there. Be assured the camp will be glad to welcome you and so far as you are concerned, Newmarket camp is the home team and is worth cheering for.

Capt. Saul Simon, former Toronto hardballer and last year coach of the Toronto dentals team who represented Canadian softball in the senior international series at Chicago, is now posted to Orillia camp but comes at a time when the C.A.C. softball is over. Orillia soldiers, however, are burning up the Orillia town league circuit just for revenge.

Richmond Hill have a real program for the village youngsters in full swing. Besides baseball for the kids, every week there is an organized, supervised swim and picnic at Lake Wilcox for both boys and girls. Last weekend the Hill boys had as their guests over 100 boys from the city for games and an over-night hike under canvas. The city boys were from the Gerrard K club and it is refreshing to see such service clubs as the Lions and Kiwanis working together.

Aug. 16 sees a big field day at the Hill for boys and girls from Newmarket, Aurora, Markham and the Hill with crests and ribbons for each event. Group A includes those under 13, Group B under 15 and Group C under 17. The events carded include standing broad jump, running broad jump, running high jump, 100 yards dash, 220 yards dash, softball throw (girls), shot-put (boys), running hop, step and jump (boys) and relay races.

Grant Nighswander, recreational director, is in charge of the event and a big time is assured for all. As the day is a half-holiday there is no reason why business men at Aurora and Newmarket can't arrange to be present and see the boys and girls from their town compete.

Lieut. Wesley Niles, former ace softball hurler of the Newmarket Redmen, is in action in Normandy these days, but he has with him quite a few district athletes we know about. Lieut. Jake Koning of Richmond Hill, the big, tall, fair-haired fellow who used to call behind the plate on the bases, is in France too. Mike Miller, the big Maple boy who played junior lacrosse for Thornhill and also for Richmond Hill intermediates, has the same address, as well as Ray White, Aurora softball outfielder of yesteryear, Tommy Ralside, promising young Aurora bicycle rider, and Cpt. Bruno Cavallo, Bramford lacrosse goalie, who also played for Orillia Terrers.

We haven't given a complete list by any means, just a few to show the panorama of district athletes in action, and we have of course previously mentioned fellows in action in France, Italy, in the air and on the sea. We can be proud of them all. Cavallo incidentally is now a married man. Just previous to leaving for France the Bramford boy was married to Miss Doris (Tess) Lazzelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Lazzelle, Horden House, Godthorpe, England. From overseas comes word of another softball smoothie of the early 40's. Jimmy Cochrane of Unionville who played shortstop for Richmond Hill Roses as well as his own village, is now an officer serving with the Imperial Army and attached to the Oxford and Bucks regiment. "Mr. Cochrane" and it seems funny to say that, wears the badge of the Queen's York Rangers on his service cap. Recently he was in command of a platoon which was inspected by His Majesty King George and the King stopped to chat with the good-looking Canadian subaltern, an experience Jimmy will remember all his life.

It Doesn't Leave a Lot for the Civilian

WHEN war demands have been filled... when invasion gasoline, aviation gasoline, Navy fuel oil, petroleum for the manufacture of explosives, synthetic rubber, and gasoline for war industry, farming and essential trucking all have been taken from Canada's oil supply -- it doesn't leave a lot for the civilian!

Figure it out for yourself. It takes 5,250,000 gallons of gasoline to fuel 5,000 bombers and fighters for a mission over Germany. It takes enough oil for one fueling of a battleship to heat an average house for 350 years. It takes 18,000 gallons of gasoline to keep one armoured division on the move for one hour.

From petroleum and petroleum gases we obtain the gasoline and fuels needed to power planes and ships and tanks as well as the raw material for acetone, ammonia and tolul for explosives, organic chemicals for anaesthetics, naphthas for camouflage paints and plastics and resins for war weapons production.

This is why civilian gasoline is short. This is why it's up to every motorist, to every owner of an oil-heated home,

Answering Your Questions about the Gasoline Shortage

What are Canada's total yearly requirements of motor gasoline? ... Approximately 800,000,000 gallons. Do these requirements have to cover both military and civilian needs? ... Yes. Why cannot this supply be increased? ... Because total hemispheric supplies are inadequate to meet both the colossal war demand and civilian needs. There is not enough oil there are not enough tankers, for both. How much of Canada's petroleum needs is supplied from Canadian wells? ... Only 15% by way of this home production has been increased. Every effort is being made to do so. More new wells are being drilled or prepared for drilling, than at any time in the history of Western Canada, but we have yet to find a new Turner Valley. War does not wait for new production.

Stanley James, skipping away from home for the first time in his many years of bowling, bowled one of the best games of his career and was responsible for his rink's success at Stouffville.

Bowler Charlie Willis is holidaying at Big Bay Point this week, taking a well-earned rest.

Charlie hopes on his return that he will have recuperated enough to take on the challenge match in the men's doubles that has been awaiting for some time. Best of luck, Charlie, the challenge is still open.

The ladies' softball game Friday evening between Office Specialty and Dixon Pencil was a keenly-fought competition with one team and then the other in the lead.

The final score brought the Office Specialty out on top and holding second place in the league.

With Shirley Andrews, Mary Ellen Macdonald and W. Delahaye to form a mid outfield, it would be a start for the coming years when Newmarket might be represented in a tri county girls' league.

Agnes Wilcott is picking good ball, improving over her previous performance to the mound again, who might well be considered one of the best in the league, allows few walks, has her share of strike outs and makes sure every batter is a hitter before allowing her to wait to the final score something with Vera Duggan of Dixon and Mona Dean of Specialty have failed to do, neither girl showing much control.

ISLAND IN THE SKY. Macmillan, $3.00. Earnest K. Gann tells the marvellous story of the rescue of the pilot and crew of a transport plane down in the unknown lake country of Northern Canada. Gann tells that anyone before him does a remarkable vivid impression of what it is like to fly the great air routes and of the magic world a part in which live the new voyagers of the air. Writing to the New York Herald Tribune, Rose Field says: "Only a creature with the earth-clinging instincts of a groundhog can fail to be stirred by this book. It is perhaps the first real literature of the air age."—Macmillan's Peggy Blackstock.

WARM WEATHER and the warm work of preserving fruits and vegetables go together. It's bright news that a solution of laves in water which has been boiled and cooled will sterilize preserves in without boiling. Just immerse and rinse clean. Laves is a new user in many ways. Bleaches white wash whiter, houseclean, deodorizes, is a sterilizing agent in times of illness. It's "good news" in any household. Laves is a very strong concentrate. Read directions.
